From the Bristol (Tenn.) News, June 10. Major H. B. Bogle, deputy sheriff, and a prominent citizeh of Tazewell county, a on Saturday last, brutally murdered by Ress Lester, of Ward's Core, near berty Hill. Major Bogie had levied upon a lot of cattle belonging to the Les some twelve uiles in the direction of Jeffersonville, for the purpose of selling them under for the purpose of selling them under execution. When he arrived within sight of town, near the H. G. Feery homostoad, he was overtaken by four of the desperadoes, who demanded that he should abandon them. Major Bogie ex-plained to them his duty in the matter and expressed a willingness to favor them all he could and a desire that some satis-factory arrangement should be made after arrival at town. Rees Leater then stopped in front of the cattle and refused to let them pass, when Major Bogie placed his hand upon his shoulders and saked him to withdraw, and immediately the him to withdraw, and immediately the ruftian placed his plated against his side and fired, the half passing through his hedy above the pelvis. He lingered in great agony for six hours, and expired at it o'clock p.m. When he had fallen one of the party handed Rees Lester another oisted and directed him to shoot his vicpistol and directed him to shoot his vic-tim again. Major Bogle simply remarked: "It is unnecessary, you have killed me." He was a son-in-law of the lata Capt. Samuel Cecil, and in 1853 represented the county of Tazewell in the House of Delerates.
